As to academic freedom, students are encouraged to examine all pertinent data, question assumptions, and guided by the evidence of research, freely study the substance of each academic discipline. Any student who perceives that this right has been violated may file a formal grievance through the Provost’s Office.

Academic Integrity Policy

In 2002-03, Lipscomb University took part in a nationwide assessment of academic integrity on college campuses. Our results were informative and sobering. To address the issues highlighted in our survey results, the Academic Integrity Committee worked with faculty, students, staff and the administration to develop a new academic integrity policy. In fall 2004, Lipscomb University welcomed a new approach to academic integrity by installing the Academic Integrity Council and founding a Community of Faith covenant among members of the Lipscomb community.

A Community of Faith

Ephesians 2:10 - "God has made us what we are. He has created us in Christ Jesus to live lives filled with good works that he has prepared for us to do.” [God’s Word Translation]

Lipscomb University is a community of scholars and learners committed to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Our core values of Christlikeness, truth, excellence and service integrate our Christian faith with the practice of academic pursuits. As citizens of this community, students, faculty and staff share the responsibility for promoting a climate of integrity.

As a distinctively Christian university, the desire is for each member of the community to grow in Christ’s image. The pursuit of truth is a constant goal of the Christian life and lays the foundation for lifelong integrity. In every facet of our work, we seek excellence in the pursuit of knowledge and the courage to make difficult choices even at personal cost. In our service in this community, our actions should reflect the second greatest command “to love your neighbor as yourself.” This command compels us to respect others, to treat others fairly and honestly, and to assume personal responsibility.

The life of the Christian is built on the foundation of serving others and living in truth. A community built on these principles cannot accept cheating, lying, fraud, theft, and other dishonest behaviors that jeopardize the rights and welfare of the community and diminish the worth of academic integrity of the community. The Community of Faith sets out broad principles. From these broad principles flow policies and practices for members of the Lipscomb University Community. The Judicial Code identifies specific definitions of academic integrity infractions and identifies the specific steps in the process.

Faculty and Academic Integrity

As citizens of the Lipscomb community of scholars and learners, faculty, along with the students and staff, share the responsibility of maintaining a climate of integrity (statement for syllabus). Providing an environment for students to grow in Christ’s image demands that in every facet of academic work and campus life, the pursuit of truth, knowledge, and excellence is paramount, even when that pursuit demands personal sacrifice. It is the personal responsibility, therefore, of each faculty member to treat student learners respectfully, fairly, and honestly—to refuse to accept cheating, lying, defrauding, or stealing—thus committing to an academic integrity which will serve as the foundation for lifelong integrity.
Handling Suspected Cases of Academic Integrity Violations

Students and faculty are equally responsible for maintaining Lipscomb’s culture of academic integrity. If an instructor suspects that a student in one of his or her classes has committed an academic integrity violation or if the instructor receives a credible report from someone to that effect, the instructor is obliged to take appropriate action in order to determine, as far as possible, the truth of the matter and to apply appropriate sanctions when reasonably confident that a violation has occurred. Refer to the Judicial Code for definitions of academic integrity violations and specific procedures to follow.

Students and Academic Integrity

As citizens of the Lipscomb community of scholars and learners, students, along with the faculty and staff, share the responsibility of maintaining a climate of integrity. Growing in Christ’s image involves intentionally using, attempting to use, or providing helpful to everyone. Academic integrity includes among other things:

* Unauthorized Collaboration
* Cheating
* Fabrication
* Multiple Submission
* False Citation
* Plagiarism
* Other Actions as Prohibited by Instructor

Unauthorized Collaboration is the act of working with others without the specific permission of the instructor on assignments. In different courses, various kinds of collaboration may be authorized (permitted by the instructor), or unauthorized. Please check with your instructor for specific guidance on whether collaboration is allowed. Students may not collaborate on coursework that will be graded unless they have faculty authorization. This rule applies to in-class or take-home tests, papers, labs, and homework assignments.

Cheating is intentionally using, attempting to use, or providing unauthorized materials, information, study aids, or the ideas or work of another in any academic exercise.

Fabrication is the intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise. Fabrication or alteration of data tends to occur to deliberately mislead. For example, changing data to get better experiment results is academic fraud. Professors in lab classes will often have strict guidelines for the completion of labs and assignments. When in doubt about what might be considered fabrication, consult the professor.

Multiple Submission is the use of work previously submitted at this or any other institution to fulfill academic requirements in another class. For example, using a paper from a 12th grade English class for an LU 1103 assignment is academic fraud. Slightly altered work that has been resubmitted is also considered to be fraudulent. With prior permission, some professors may allow students to complete one assignment for two classes. In this case, prior permission from both instructors is necessary.

False Citation is falsely citing a source or attributing work to a source from which the referenced material was not obtained. A simple example of this would be footnoting a paragraph and citing a work that was never utilized.

Plagiarism is intentionally or knowingly representing the words or ideas of another as one’s own in any academic exercise, i.e., using someone else’s ideas or work without proper or complete acknowledgement. Plagiarism encompasses many things, and is by far the most common example of academic fraud. For example, copying a passage straight from a book into a paper without quoting or explicitly citing the source is plagiarism. In addition, completely reworking someone else’s work or ideas and using it as one’s own is also plagiarism. It is very important that students properly acknowledge all ideas, work, and even distinctive wording that are not their own. However, certain information in any discipline is considered “common knowledge” and may be used without acknowledgment. What is considered to be common knowledge varies among fields; when in doubt consult a professor. Students unsure of how to properly cite a source are encouraged to consult a professor, or a relevant manual of style.

Internet Resources are quickly becoming popular materials used in academic research. Many websites provide reliable information; however, others may not provide well-documented research. If you rely on Internet resources for your research, be sure to verify the correctness of the information and to use proper citation in your work.

Facilitating Academic Dishonesty is intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another to violate any provision of the Lipscomb University Judicial Code.
Faculty Policies for Handling Suspected Cases of Academic Integrity Violations

The Academic Integrity Flowchart illustrates the process for a case of academic integrity violation. Below is an explanation of the general procedures that instructors should follow when they have reason to suspect that a violation has occurred. Instructors should act with due respect for confidentiality throughout this process.

Scenario A: Faculty Member Observes or Discovers Academic Integrity Violation

When a faculty member directly observes or discovers a possible violation of academic integrity in the classroom, during an assignment, or in the grading process:

1) The instructor should privately confront the student with the apparent violation, present whatever evidence there may be to demonstrate that a violation may have occurred, explain the severity of the apparent violation, and ask the student to respond. Instructors should document in writing the content and results of this meeting along with whatever evidence there is to support the allegation.

2) If the instructor decides that no violation has occurred, or if the student satisfactorily explains suspicious actions or evidence, the matter should be dropped—no further action is necessary.

3) If the instructor decides that a violation worthy of sanction has in fact occurred—either because the student admits the violation or because the student denies the allegation without providing a satisfactory explanation—the instructor should complete and sign Section A of the "Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation" form (found on myLipscomb) and have the student complete and sign Section B of that form. If the student refuses to sign the form, the matter should be referred to the Integrity Council for hearing.

4) The completed form should be sent immediately to the department chair and college dean for signatures, and then sent to Ruth Henry, SAC 210, in a sealed envelope.

Scenario B: A Third Party Notifies the Instructor of Academic Integrity Violation

When a third party alleges to an instructor that a violation has occurred:

1) The instructor should attempt to gather evidence either confirming or refuting the allegation. Allegations brought by students should never be ignored, even if they seem difficult or impossible to prove. To do nothing is to abdicate one’s professional responsibility to one’s students and one’s university.

2) If the instructor cannot develop evidence to support the allegation, the instructor should meet privately with the accuser, describe what steps were taken in response to the allegation, and explain why sanctions were not administered. The instructor should also describe what steps will be taken, if possible, to prevent the alleged behavior from taking place in the future.

3) If evidence of impropriety does surface, the instructor should privately confront the student with the apparent violation, present whatever evidence there may be to support the allegation, explain the severity of the apparent violation, and ask the student to respond. Instructors should document in writing the content and results of this meeting along with whatever evidence there is to support the allegation.

4) If the instructor decides that a violation worthy of sanction has in fact occurred—either because the student admits the violation or because the student denies the allegation without providing a satisfactory explanation—the instructor should complete and sign Section A of the "Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation" form (found on myLipscomb) and have the student complete and sign Section B of that form.

5) The completed form should be sent immediately to the department chair and college dean for signatures, and then sent to Ruth Henry, SAC 210, in a sealed envelope.

Integrity Council

The Integrity Council becomes involved in the process of an academic integrity violation in three ways:

(1) When the instructor and the student cannot reach a resolution, the case is forwarded to the Integrity Council for a hearing. The Integrity Council will determine if the student is guilty of the charge of an academic integrity violation. The ruling of the Integrity Council is final.

a. If the student is found guilty, the Integrity Council will impose the suggested punishment noted by the faculty member in Section A of the "Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation" form.

b. If the student is found not guilty, no penalty will be assessed and no further action is necessary.

(2) When the chair of the Integrity Council receives a properly processed "Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation" form, he/she will search to see if this student has committed a previous academic integrity violation offense. If there is a previous offense, the student’s file is automatically forwarded to the Integrity Council for a hearing. The Integrity Council will consider the student’s file in its entirety and may impose additional sanctions in light of the number of academic integrity offenses committed by the student and the severity of the cases. The ruling of the Integrity Council is final.

(3) When the instructor has made the appropriate consequences within the class, but feels that further sanctions might be needed.

Composition of the Integrity Council

The Integrity Council will be composed of the following members:

• Two voting faculty members from the Academic Advisory Committee
• Two voting student representatives
• The Provost or Council Chair (voting only in a tie)

The faculty members will be elected by the Faculty Senate and will serve a two year term. The student representatives will be students nominated by the faculty and the deans of each college. These nominations will form a pool of 5-7 students from which two will be chosen for each hearing. If a student member of the Integrity Council has a conflict of interest in a particular case, another student from the Council will be selected for the hearing. Student representatives must meet the following qualifications for nomination:

• Maintained a minimum 2.5 GPA.
• Completed at least 75 hours at the end of the semester in which they are nominated.
• Declared a major.
• Approved for nomination by at least 90% of the faculty in their first declared major area.

Student representation may include one graduate student. The Provost is a standing member of the Integrity Council. The Provost may designate a member of the administration or the faculty to be his representative on the Integrity Council.
Integrity Council Officers

a. The chair will be the Provost or his designated appointee. The chair will be responsible for organizing the other council members and conducting the meetings. The chair position is permanent unless stated otherwise. The vote will be regulated by the chair.

b. The secretary will be temporarily appointed for each hearing. Typically, the secretary will be appointed by the college dean in which the violation has occurred.

Integrity Council Vacancies

In the event that there is a student vacancy on the Integrity Council for any reason, the sitting members of the council shall nominate an eligible student to fill the vacancy. The nominee shall be subject to the faculty department majority vote within the student's first declared major area.

In the event of a faculty vacancy, the Faculty Senate will nominate and choose an eligible faculty member.

If the chair chooses to abdicate his/her position, then the Provost will select a new chair to preside. If the Provost serves as the chair and decides to step down then he/she will choose a replacement. If the Integrity Council finds the administrator to be in violation of the policies or regulations of the university then the council can report these wrong doings to the Provost for proper dismissal.

Administrative Procedures for the Integrity Council

Should an honor code violation be reported during the summer sessions, the chair will call upon the newly elected Integrity Council to carry out the necessary procedures. If a student or faculty member position on the Integrity Council cannot be represented by a voting member or an alternate, the chair and the provost may select temporary or ad hoc Integrity Council members to hear the single pending case. However, all duly elected council members should if at all possible be present.

Should any member of the Integrity Council be placed on academic or disciplinary probation for any reason, he/ she must vacate his/ her council seat.

In the event of a suspected academic integrity violation by a council member, that member will be suspended from the council until the investigation of his/ her case is completed. If the council member is not found guilty of the charge, he or she will be immediately reinstated to the council. If he or she is found guilty, then he or she will be expelled from the council permanently and normal disciplinary action will then occur. SGA senators may serve on the Integrity Council, but if SGA at anytime becomes an obstacle then the student can be removed from the Integrity Council by the Provost.

All voting positions are equal. Students and faculty members have full voting rights and the freedom of speech to express their opinions. The has the freedom to express an opinion, but will only vote in cases of a tie. All votes are confidential. Decisions of the Integrity Council are final.

Meetings of the Integrity Council

The Integrity Council will meet to hear cases of academic integrity violations in a timely manner as they occur. The Integrity Council will meet at least once each semester to review all academic integrity violations submitted to the Chair of the Council.

Integrity Council Hearing Procedures

1. Cases are referred to the Integrity Council when one of the following occurs:

a. A faculty member refers the case for additional consideration
b. An accused student refuses to sign the Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation Form
c. A student has multiple integrity offenses

Regardless of the source of the referral to the Integrity Council, all appeals will be heard in order to ensure a fair process.

2. Hearings will convene within five business days of the filing of the disposition form. Before a hearing convenes the Integrity Council requests summary statements from the student and faculty member involved in the case.

a. Before convening a hearing resulting from 1a. or 1b. above, the following documents should be submitted to the Chair of the Integrity Council. These documents will be provided to the members of the Integrity Council prior to the hearing for their review.

- The student will write a statement summarizing the circumstances of the situation in question. If the student refused to sign the Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation Form, this statement should also include the student’s rationale for not signing the Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation Form.
- The faculty member will write a statement summarizing the circumstances of the situation in question and the faculty member’s rationale for the punishment outlined on the Faculty Disposition of Academic Integrity Violation Form.

b. Before convening a hearing resulting from 1c. above, the following document should be submitted to the Chair of the Integrity Council. These documents will be provided to the members of the Integrity Council prior to the hearing for their review.

- The student will write a statement summarizing the circumstances of the multiple offenses in question.

3. The Integrity Council will meet each semester regardless of document submissions.

4. Hearings of the Integrity Council will follow this protocol:

a. The Chair of the Integrity Council will make introductions and explain procedures.

b. The faculty member will be given 15 minutes to explain his/her position.

c. The student will be given 15 minutes to explain his/her position. Students will be allowed to have a silent support person with them during the hearing. The support person will not provide advice and may not be an attorney or family member.

d. The integrity Council will be allowed to ask questions of either party.

e. Students can ask up to 3 pertinent witnesses with firsthand knowledge of the offense to speak to the Integrity Council.

f. The faculty member can ask up to 3 pertinent witnesses with firsthand knowledge of the offense to speak to the Integrity Council.

g. The Integrity Council can ask questions of witnesses as they arise.

h. After all witnesses are finished, both sides will then take five minutes to make final comments.

i. Each hearing will be transcribed.
j. Decisions will be made by majority vote in private session preponderance of the evidence i.e., it is ore likely than not that the violation occurred.
k. All members of the council must be present or represented by an alternate as selected by the council chair.

5. Within 3 days of the hearing, a representative(s) of the Integrity Council will contact the student and the faculty member to communicate the Council’s final decision.

Anti-Bullying Policy
No University student, faculty or staff member should be subjected to bullying by any other student, faculty or staff member.
Reports of bullying will be investigated and their veracity determined based upon the totality of the circumstances. This policy does not limit the ability of the University to address conduct inconsistent with the mission of the University.

Communication Responsibility and Student Identification
Students should keep their Lipscomb University ID cards with them at all times and, if asked, should immediately present their identification to any university personnel. It is the responsibility of students to check their campus e-mail account daily for important information from university personnel. Students are expected to respond promptly if summoned to one of the university’s administrative offices and to cooperate respectfully in all circumstances with all university employees.

Computer and Network Usage

Students who are provided access to University computer facilities and to the campus wide communication network assume responsibility for their appropriate use. The University expects students to be careful, honest, responsible and civil in the use of computers and networks. Students who connect to the internet through the University network are expected to abide by the University’s policies as well as the policies of any remote system used.

Be advised that, in addition to violating University policies, certain computer misconduct is prohibited by federal and state law and is, therefore, subject to criminal and civil penalties. Such misconduct includes knowingly gaining unauthorized access to a computer system or database, falsely obtaining electronic services or data without payment of required charges, intentionally intercepting electronic communications, and obtaining, altering or destroying others’ electronic information. Similarly, serious legal penalties may result from the use of Lipscomb’s computers or network to violate copyright laws, as is possible with the use of peer-to-peer (P2P) file sharing programs. Moreover, a student may be held responsible for misuse that occurs by allowing a third party access to the student’s own computer, account, or network connection.

Students are expected to abide by these rules and policies and to consult a Lipscomb University Computer Center IT member prior to any activity that would appear to threaten the security or performance of University computers and networks. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary action.

Criminal and/or Civil Legal Issues

Violating local, state or federal law may subject students to criminal and/or civil penalties in addition to disciplinary action under this Code of Conduct. While the university will cooperate with authorities whenever possible, university policies or procedures will not be suspended or terminated pending the outcome of any criminal or civil action. All policies under this Code of Conduct are separate and independent from any applicable laws.

Disruption

Students are expected to behave in a way which is appropriate for the university setting. Behavior which causes a disruption to teaching, research, administration, community activities or the living environment is prohibited. The university reserves the right to restrict students whose behavior violates this policy from campus until professional clearance is obtained that indicates the student may return without posing a continued disruption to the university, residential communities or to others who learn and work at the university.

Dress Code

We encourage standards of modesty appropriate to Christian life and standards of personal appearance that will be expected of students in their chosen professions. Students should be aware that individual faculty or departments might adopt additional standards for dress/appearance, particularly when students are representing the university in internship opportunities, or on university affiliated trips. Mature attitudes of respect and cooperation are expected in following any such guidelines. General university guidelines for dress/appearance on-campus are as follows:

- Clothing must be modest in style and length.
- Students must wear shirts/tops which cover the entire upper torso at all times. Strapless, low-cut, excessively tight, or “see-through” clothing is inappropriate.
- Apparel with provocative/suggestive language or advertising that is inconsistent with the mission of the university is prohibited.
- Hairstyles, body-piercing(s), makeup, and tattoos should not be so outstanding or numerous that they become a distraction or attract inordinate attention. Words or images in visible tattoos must be consistent with the values and mission of the university.

Education

Lipscomb University attempts to avert alcohol, substance and other abuse by educating students about the personal and societal consequences associated with their abuse. Educational programs coordinated through Lipscomb’s counseling center and residence life program seek to promote prevention strategies as well as employing “social norming” an approach that calls for transparent dialog about actual (rather than perceived) rates of use. While Lipscomb aspires to provide an alcohol and drug free learning environment, honest and transparent discussion of potential student use is part of a successful intervention strategy. As an institution of higher learning we embrace the responsibility of equipping our students to make good decisions that will reach far beyond their time at Lipscomb. We challenge our students to embrace their responsibility to conduct themselves in a way that is both God honoring and conscious of their influence on others.

Failure to Comply

A student is expected to comply with the reasonable requests of a university staff member. Failure to comply would include but is not limited to refusal to open a room door, refusal to produce identification, giving false or misleading information, or failing to complete a disciplinary sanction.
Flyers, Posters, and Campus Messaging Policy

All flyers, posters, and other forms of campus messaging should be consistent with the values and mission of the University. Flyers and posters from official or unofficial student groups must be approved by the Dean of Student Life. All flyers and/or posters that are distributed without approval will be removed. All approved flyers/posters should be hung in appropriate locations on campus and should not damage walls in any way. Flyers/posters should be removed by the approved group on the day following the event.

Fundraisers

Lipscomb provides officially recognized student organizations, clubs, ministries, and classes the opportunity to apply for a fundraising permit. Permits will only be granted to fundraise for legitimate organizational requirements and University contractual obligations. Fundraising guidelines and permit applications are available in the office of Student Life.

Gambling

University students must refrain from any kind of gambling.

Hazing

Hazing is illegal, and no individual or group shall engage in hazing. Hazing is most broadly defined as the subjection of a person(s) to any situation in which he/she is demeaned, humiliated, or caused uncommon physical/emotional stress for acceptance in any group. For more information about the university’s Anti-Hazing Guidelines see the General University Policies and Regulations section of this handbook.

Honesty Policy

Students are expected to practice the highest standards of personal integrity. Dishonesty under any circumstances will not be tolerated.

Notification of Parents

Whenever a dependent student receives a disciplinary response or probation, suspension or dismissal, the parents of the dependent student may be notified. Furthermore, parents of any student under the age of 21 may be notified should their student violate the Lipscomb alcohol/drug policy. A copy of the disciplinary response may be sent with a letter of explanation. The university also reserves the right to contact parents when the administration believes that parental contact is in the best interest of the student and/or the university. As stated in the current university catalog, a student’s dependency status is determined according to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, section 152.

On Campus Student Functions

On campus meeting spaces are reserved for student groups that are officially recognized by the institution. Requests for function and/or official status should be submitted to the office of Student Life for review by one of the deans. Submit requests in a timely manner to provide sufficient time for the deans to review the requests.

Pornography and Profanity

Profanity, vulgarity, obscenity, or pornography in any form is incompatible with the mission of the university. The viewing or possession of pornographic materials is prohibited for all students.

Safety

All members of the Lipscomb University community must show respect to themselves and others at all times. Behavior that indicates a student is a threat of harm to themselves or others is prohibited. Any act or threat that imposes any kind of emotional trauma, intimidation, or physical harm to another person is prohibited.

Search and Seizure

Each student grants to the university the right to enter, inspect, and search the room of any student in university owned housing, or any student's car, whether or not the student is a boarding student, with or without the student’s presence. The Senior Vice President for Student Life or one of the deans of student life will normally issue search authorization. All evidence found in such searches will be seized and deposited with the Office of Student Life. Except under an emergency situation (as determined by the university), a room search will be conducted by at least two representatives of the university. A student who refuses permission for a room search is subject to immediate dismissal.

Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment of any kind will not be tolerated. Lipscomb University has developed a detailed policy and complaint procedure concerning sexual harassment, which may be viewed on the My Lipscomb web page. https://mycampus.lipscomb.edu/group/generalcounsel/Institutio nal-Policies

Sexual Morality

All students should practice the Biblical standards of sexual morality. Sexual immorality of any kind is prohibited.

Spending the night with a member(s) of the opposite sex and/or being in any state of undress with members of the opposite sex, even if acts of sexual immorality have not occurred, are actionable offenses.

Solicitation

Unauthorized solicitation, advertising, selling, promoting or distribution of goods or information on university property is prohibited.

Stalking

Stalking is a crime and, in addition to criminal penalties, is subject to discipline, including dismissal from the university. Pursuant to Tennessee law (T.C.A. 39-17-315), stalking is generally defined as repeated or continuing harassment of a person (through two or more separate non-continuous acts) that would cause a reasonable person to feel terrorized, frightened, intimidated, threatened or molested. For purposes of this Code of Conduct, stalking includes, but is not limited to, repeated or continuing harassment via the telephone, e-mail, or the internet.

Theft or Loss of Private Property

Few acts contribute more to the disintegration of community than stealing. If it is determined that a student has stolen university property, or the personal property of others, that student may be subject to fines and severe disciplinary penalties.

Vandalism

Students must show respect at all times for the property of others. Any act that damages or defaces property is prohibited. Such behavior is regarded as a safety risk, not only for the individuals involved, but also for the entire campus community, and may be subject to discipline.

Weapons

It is violation of university policy to possess, carry, or store a weapon of any kind on campus. A weapon refers to but is not limited to firearms, guns, paintball guns, airsoft guns, pellet guns, BB guns, homemade launchers, hunting knives, and folding knives which exceed 2.36 inches. This applies also to weapons stored in a vehicle or used for hunting. It is also against university policy to carry, possess, or store ammunition and/or explosives of any kind on campus (including fireworks). Individuals who wish to hunt must arrange for off-campus storage of weapons and accessories. Violation of this policy will not be tolerated and students found in violation of this policy may be immediately suspended. Exemptions to this policy includes law enforcement officers and specifically approved, trained, and licensed Lipscomb Security officers. Refer to the General University Policies and Regulations for more details.

Disciplinary Procedures and Actions:

Procedures
When it appears a violation of the Code of Conduct or other campus policy may have occurred (or is occurring), an investigation of the circumstances will be initiated by university personnel, which may include any university employee, but will most often involve campus safety officers, or residence hall directors/assistants. If the situation is not resolved upon immediate confrontation, the alleged violation or incident may be reported to the Office of Student Life, and the student(s) involved (or up to three representatives, in a case involving a student organization) will be asked to meet with one of the deans. Students are expected to respond promptly and to cooperate respectfully and honestly when an inquiry is made by any university personnel. Failure to do so may itself result in disciplinary action. Parents, guardians, or legal counsel may not act as a representative or accompany the student(s) during these meetings.

After an initial conference with the student(s) under review, disciplinary action may be immediately taken, the deans may confer, or additional investigation may take place. In instances when Code of Conduct violations appear serious enough to warrant consideration of suspension or dismissal the Dean of Student Life may convene the Disciplinary Advisory Board (DAB) to assist in the disciplinary process. The DAB is a committee comprised of students, faculty, and staff members selected by the Dean of Student Life to provide counsel and community input to the disciplinary process. The DAB will be convened at the sole discretion of the Dean of Student Life. The Office of Student Life strives to deal with all cases expeditiously; however, it reserves the right to continue investigations and disciplinary procedures for as long as necessary, in order to ensure as thorough and fair an investigation/decision as possible. The burden of proof for a judgment of guilt in the review of disciplinary cases will be met if, based on the consideration of all the evidence, it is reasonable to conclude that a student has, more likely than not, violated the principles of the university as expressed in the Code of Conduct or other university policies. Evidence for disciplinary cases may include, without limitation, testimony from witnesses, written statements and other relevant information.

The Senior Vice President for Student Life or Dean of Student Life may require a student to withdraw from the university at any time such action is judged to serve the best interest of the student and/or the university. A student’s graduation may be delayed until an ongoing investigation is completed.

Disciplinary Actions/Financial Probations
While attempting to be consistent in its disciplinary decisions, the university also attempts to be sensitive to the facts and circumstances surrounding individual cases. These two values may, at times, conflict, but both will be weighed in the effort to achieve as fair a disciplinary process/decision as possible. In weighing the appropriateness of a disciplinary action a student’s prior offenses and level of cooperation with the disciplinary process will be considered. Specific examples of disciplinary actions, which may be applied in cases of misconduct, include, but are not limited to, the following:

Informal Actions
Informal Actions may/may not be accompanied by formal action.
• Probation to the Deans: This is a verbal or written reprimand and/or warning. This will be posted to the student’s file in the Office of Student Life. It will not become part of the official record of the student, but will be considered in the event of continued disciplinary problems.
• Loss of residence hall privileges: For example, students may lose the privilege to sign-out, or use ‘late-minutes’ or Sophomores, Juniors, or Seniors may be required to observe curfew as a disciplinary consequence.
• Loss of rights and privileges to participate in student activities: One may be prohibited from participating in social club activities or with other campus affiliated programs/organizations (e.g., athletic teams, annual/newspaper staff, radio station, SGA, offices of academic/service organizations, study abroad, etc.).
• Loss of institutional aid: This may include any financial aid granted/supplied by the university.
• Modification or suspension of housing arrangements: Students may be moved to alternative university housing, or required to move off campus. In addition, students living off-campus may be required to take up residence on-campus, regardless of the duration of their current lease.
• Payment of fines, or monetary restitution: Fines may be levied or restitution required for damage/misappropriation of the property of the university or others, or for non-compliance with university policies/procedures.
• Discretionary sanctions: Students may be assigned community service hours (e.g., with a charitable organization, church ministry, or the campus Facilities Department), required to see a counselor or attend programs, or given other assignments, as deemed appropriate to the particular violation of the standards of conduct.
• Denial of or conditional, readmission: In certain circumstances (e.g., with students who have exhibited addiction problems, continued behavioral/attitude problems, or emotional/social instability), the dean’s approval may be required for readmission. In such cases, readmission may be conditional to the fulfillment of certain stipulations, or readmission may be denied.

Formal Actions
• Disciplinary Probation: Behavior probation will generally last a minimum of ten (10) weeks, and may be required for as long as one year. Its length/requirements may be extended or intensified if, in the judgment of the dean(s), sufficient efforts are not being made to fulfill or comply with the stipulations. Failure or persistent difficulty in this regard will most likely result in suspension or dismissal.
• Deferred Suspension: This action implies that the offense of the student(s) is considered worthy of Suspension, and will generally state provisions for a Suspension to be activated at the end of the semester in which this status is declared. Deferred Suspension normally carries specific restrictions equal to or greater than those of Disciplinary Probation, and requires the strictest observance of university policies and regulations. Violations, which may have seemed minor/inconsequential to the student under normal circumstances, will be seriously scrutinized while the student is on Deferred Suspension status. Continued problems will likely result in immediate suspension or dismissal from school.

- Suspension: Once placed on Suspension, a student will have two (2) business days to withdraw from classes and vacate the residence hall or to file an appeal of the decision (disciplinary decisions will be considered in force while appeals are pending). After this time, the student will be forcibly dropped from all classes. In some cases, the deans may request that the student vacate the residence hall immediately and a student may be asked not to return to campus for the duration of the suspension. The suspension will only last for a specified period of time as determined by the deans; then, the student may apply for readmission to the university with written permission from the Dean of Student Life.

- Dismissal: Once dismissed, a student will not be eligible for readmission to the university. Conditions for withdrawal and vacating of residence halls are the same as those for suspension.

Formal disciplinary actions are noted in a student’s permanent disciplinary record, and will be reported to other offices within the university — possibly resulting in further disciplinary consequences (e.g., loss of institutional aid, exclusion from programs, etc.). There are three other types of formal, or “official,” probation besides those outlined above which are enacted by other offices of Lipscomb University. They are: Academic Probation, Bible Probation, and Chapel Probation. Students on any type of official probation are subject to suspension at the end of any semester in which a second official probation occurs (see policies on probation beginning on page 27 in the University Undergraduate Catalog). Similarly, when formal disciplinary action of the Office of Student Life occurs in conjunction with any other formal/official probation of the university (Academic, Bible, or Chapel), suspension will be automatic.

Financial Responsibility

If suspended, dismissed, or withdrawn by the university the student will not be allowed to take final exams and acknowledges full responsibility for all charges on their student bill (tuition, fees, room & board, etc.). Failure to pay any outstanding balance due may result in being charged for all of the University’s costs for collections, including legal fees. Withdrawal, suspension, or probation does not result in reduced charges or additional credits on the student’s bill.

Appeals

Student appeals of disciplinary actions of the deans will only be granted on one or more of the following grounds: 1) The disciplinary action is grossly disproportionate to the misconduct; 2) The student was not accorded his or her rights as outlined in the Student Handbook, and this failure significantly affected the student’s right to receive a fair hearing; 3) The decision of the deans was not supported reasonably by the evidence; 4) New evidence has become available since the final determination which would have significantly altered the disciplinary results.

An appeal request that fails to reflect one or more of these four grounds as the explicit basis for the appeal will be denied. Neither a general dissatisfaction with the official disciplinary outcome or a petition for leniency will be accepted as a basis for a student appeal. The student’s formal disciplinary contract is in effect throughout the appeal process and the student is expected to abide by his/her contract stipulations.

Apell Process

Students must submit a formal request for an appeal in writing to the Senior Vice President for Student Life by close of business within five (5) business days from the time they have been notified of a disciplinary decision. In cases of suspension or dismissal the request for an appeal must be submitted within two (2) business days of being informed of the disciplinary decision.

The request for an appeal must set forth all the specific grounds for the appeal. If the disciplined student or organization wishes to call witnesses to testify at an appeal hearing, these must also be identified (and the relevance/necessity of their personal testimony in the hearing explained) in the written request. A witness is defined as a person with pertinent information pertaining to the case.

The Senior Vice President for Student Life will review the appeal submitted to determine if the grounds for an appeal have been satisfied. Generally, the appellate process does not require a hearing, nor does it require the Senior Vice President to make contact with the student or the deans. The Senior Vice President for Student Life may, but is not required to convene an ad hoc appeals committee to assist in making recommendations for the appeal.

In the event that a hearing is granted the student will be notified in writing of the date and time of the appeal hearing. A copy of the written appeal request will be given to the deans. The deans will then file a response. A copy of this response, when received by the Senior Vice President for Student Life will be given to the disciplined student(s).

At the hearing, after the student(s) presents his/her case, the student may call approved witnesses to testify before the appeal participants. The number of witnesses called must also be kept to a reasonable limit, as determined by the Senior Vice President for Student Life; generally, no more than three witnesses may be called.

In disciplinary cases involving an organization, up to three representatives of the organization may appear as representatives in the hearing. However, one of the three representatives must be designated as the primary spokesperson. The representatives will be responsible for obtaining all relevant information from the organization’s members to present at the hearing.

The university has also made provision for a representative from the university community to accompany students who are granted an appeal hearing. This person is to be chosen by the student/organization under review, and shall be another Lipscomb University student or faculty/staff member. This representative will not be allowed to testify or address the hearing participants directly, and may be asked to leave the proceedings if insistent upon doing so, but may act as an advisor and provider of moral support for the student whose case is under review. Parents, guardians, or legal counsel may not act as a representative or accompany the student(s) while he/she is participating in the appeal process.

The Senior Vice President for Student Life may affirm, reverse, or modify the official disciplinary action. In addition, the Senior Vice President for Student Life may return the case to the deans for further consideration. The decision of the Senior Vice President for Student Life is final and effective immediately.

Amnesty

The welfare of students, staff, and faculty is of paramount importance. The Lipscomb University community encourages the reporting of alleged sexual misconduct. Sometimes, survivors (or their friends) are hesitant to report to University officials because they fear that they themselves may be charged with policy violations, such as underage drinking at the time of the incident. Similarly, students are sometimes hesitant to offer assistance to others for fear that they may get themselves in trouble. (For example, an underage student who has been drinking might hesitate to bring the sexual misconduct victim to Campus Safety and Security for reporting and/or assistance.)

It is in the best interest of the Lipscomb University community for individuals to report allegations of sexual misconduct to University officials. To encourage reporting, Lipscomb University pursues a policy of offering survivors of sexual misconduct and students who offer help to others in need a limited immunity from being charged for policy violations related to the sexual misconduct incident. While policy violations cannot be completely overlooked, the University will provide referrals to counseling and may require educational options in such cases.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA): A STATEMENT OF POLICY

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 or FERPA is a federal law that provides, generally, that the university will maintain the confidentiality of student education records. Lipscomb University accords all the rights under the law to students who are not dependent (as defined in the Internal Revenue Code). No one outside the university shall have access to nor will the university disclose any information from students’ education records without the written consent of the student except to school officials with a legitimate educational interest, to officials of other educational institutions in which students seek to enroll, to persons or organizations providing students financial aid, to accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation function, to persons in compliance with a subpoena or court order, to parents or legal guardian of a dependent student (as defined in the Internal Revenue Code), and to persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of students or other persons. All these exceptions and certain others are permitted under FERPA.

Within the Lipscomb University community, only those officials, individually or collectively, with a legitimate educational interest may access student education records. These officials are deemed by the university to include all personnel in the offices of the President, registrar, Provost, finance, financial aid, admissions, advancement, counseling, general counsel, student life, human resources, information systems and the director of teacher education, the director of athletics, the director of career services, and academic support personnel within the limitations of their need to know. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs information to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

At its discretion the university may provide directory information to third parties without a student’s written consent in accordance with FERPA. In this regard, the university has deemed directory information to include student name, e-mail address, local and permanent address, telephone number, date and place of birth, major field of study, full-time or part-time status, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student, social club, academic club/society memberships, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of members of athletic teams. Students may withhold directory information, however, by notifying the registrar in writing.

The law provides students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their education records, to challenge the contents of their education records, to have a hearing if the outcome of the challenge is unsatisfactory, and to submit explanatory statements for inclusion in their files if they feel the decisions of the hearing panels to be unacceptable. The registrar at Lipscomb University has been designated by the university to coordinate the inspection and review procedures for student education records, which include admissions, personal, academic and financial files, and academic, cooperative education and placement records. Students wishing to review their education records must make written request to the registrar listing the item or items of interest. Only records covered by FERPA will be made available within forty-five days of the request.

Students may have copies made of their records except when a financial “hold” exists, or a transcript of an original or source document exists elsewhere. These copies would be made at the students’ expense. Education records do not include records of instructional, administrative, and educational personnel which are the sole possession of the maker and are not accessible or revealed to any individual except a temporary substitute, records of the law enforcement unit, student health records, employment records or alumni records. Physicians of the students’ choosing, however, may review health records.

Students may not inspect and review the following as outlined by FERPA: financial information submitted by their parents; confidential letters and recommendations associated with admissions, employment or job placement, or honors to which they have waived their rights of inspection and review; or education records containing information about more than one student, in which case the university will permit access only to that part of the record which pertains to the inquiring student. The University is not required to permit students to inspect and review confidential letters and recommendations placed in their files or those letters were collected under established policies of confidentiality and were used only for the purposes for which they were collected.

Students who believe that their education records contain information that is inaccurate or misleading or is otherwise in violation of their privacy or other rights may discuss their problems informally with the office of the registrar. If the decisions are in agreement with the students’ requests, the appropriate records will be amended. If not, the students will be notified within a reasonable period of time that the records will not be amended; and they will be informed by the office of the registrar of their right to a formal hearing. Student requests for a formal hearing must be made in writing to the Provost, who, within a reasonable period of time after receiving such requests, will inform students of the date, place, and time of the hearing. Students may present evidence relevant to the issues raised and may be assisted or represented at the hearings by one person, who may not be an attorney. The hearing panels that will adjudicate such challenges will be a committee appointed by the Provost within sixty days of such request being submitted in writing.

Decisions of the hearing panels will be final, will be rendered within a reasonable time after the hearing, will be based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing based on a preponderance of the evidence (i.e., whether it is more likely than not that the education record should be amended), and will consist of written statements summarizing the evidence and stating the reasons for the decisions, and will be delivered to all parties concerned. The education records will be corrected or amended in accordance with the decisions of the hearing panels, if the decisions are in favor of the students. If the decisions are unsatisfactory to the students, the students may place with the education records statements commenting on the information in the records, or statements setting forth any reasons for disagreeing with the decisions of the hearing panels. The statements will be placed in the education records, maintained as part of the students’ records, and released whenever the records in question are disclosed.

Students who believe that the adjudication of their challenges were unfair or not in keeping with the provisions of FERPA may request in writing an appeal with the Provost. Further, students who believe that their rights have been abridged may file complaints with The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office (FERPA), Department of Education, Washington, DC 20201, concerning the alleged failures of Lipscomb University to comply with FERPA.

Revisions and clarifications will be published as experience with the law and university’s policy warrants.

Community Accountability
Lipscomb University is committed to providing all members of the University community, including students, faculty, staff, alumni, vendors, and guests, with a safe and productive environment. If any member of the University community has reason to believe or reasonably suspects that the University or any of its agents is acting contrary to any applicable federal, state, or local laws or regulations, or contrary to any established University policy, that person may report such action or activity without fear of retribution or retaliation. Information regarding the University’s Whistleblower policy is available through the Office of General Counsel.

Intellectual Property Policy
The University has a policy regarding intellectual property. This policy exists to encourage research and innovation, clarify ownership of intellectual property rights, create opportunities for public use of the University innovations, and provide for the equitable distribution of monetary and other benefits derived from intellectual property. Copies of the full policy are available in the Provost’s Office.

Involuntary Withdrawal

Standards for Involuntary Withdrawal:
Lipscomb University is committed to legal and ethical principles respecting individual rights and human dignity. However, there are situations which require officers of the University to protect not only individuals, but the community at large. Such situations include evidence which is brought before the Senior Vice President for Student Life/Dean of Student Life indicating that the continued presence of a student on campus poses a significant threat to him/herself or to others or to the stability and continuance of normal college functions. Thus, a student may be subject to mandatory withdrawal from the University whenever there is convincing evidence that the student is suffering from an emotional disorder and, as a result of the emotional disorder:
1. Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which poses a danger of causing physical harm to self or others.
2. Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which would cause significant property damage, or directly and substantially impede the lawful activities of others.

Procedures for Withdrawal:
Any individual who believes that such a student poses such a threat, as described above, should contact the Senior Vice President for Student Life/Dean of Student Life. The Dean will conduct a preliminary investigation and, if necessary, convene a Behavior Evaluation Committee. This committee will consist of as many of the following persons who are available to serve: the Dean of Student Life (Chair), a member of Counseling Services staff, a member of the Health Services professional staff, a professional staff member from Residence Life if the student is an on-campus resident, the student’s academic advisor, and any other individual(s) e.g., other Campus Life Deans, Safety staff, member of the Student Health Services staff, whom the Dean believes can provide significant input regarding the student. The Dean of Student Life may choose to require an assessment of the student by making an administrative referral to Counseling Services staff or to a licensed professional counselor or psychiatrist. If the student fails to agree to and complete such an evaluation, the Dean may implement a withdrawal immediately if the student meets the conditions set forth in “Standards for Involuntary Withdrawal.”

At the conclusion of its proceedings, the Committee may:
1. Find that no action is necessary.
2. Establish conditions under which the student may continue at the University and/or residence hall and procedures for enforcement of those conditions.
3. Recommend voluntary withdrawal of the student from the University and/or residence hall.
4. Implement involuntary withdrawal procedures.

Process for Readmission to the University:
Readmission of a student who has been involuntarily removed from the University is subject to the approval of the Senior Vice President for Student Life/Dean of Student Life who, with consultation of appropriate medical and psychological services will require such psychological and/or medical evaluation as he/she deems necessary. The Dean may also choose to refer the issue of readmission to a Behavior Evaluation Committee for its review and recommendation. In assessing the student’s fitness to resume academic life at the University, the Dean has the right to require an evaluation by a physician or psychiatrist of the University’s own choosing.

If the decision is not to readmit, the Dean may specify the conditions that need to be met before readmission will be considered. If the decision is to readmit, the Dean will specify the stipulations, if any, that the student must meet in order to return and continue as a student (e.g., living off campus, continuing psychotherapy on a regular basis, etc.). Responsibility for payment of off-campus treatment will rest with the student.

Deviations From The Established Procedures:
Reasonable deviations from these procedures will not invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to a student may result.

Emergency Management Guideline Summary

Fire
A. Know the location of the extinguisher, fire exits and fire alarm systems in your area and know how to use them.
B. If a minor fire appears controllable, promptly direct the charge of a fire extinguisher toward the base of the flame and sweep from side to side, then immediately contact the Facilities Director at ext. 1820 or ext. 1826 and Campus Safety at ext. 7600.
C. If an emergency exists, activate the building alarm. CAUTION: The building alarm sounds only in the building where the fire exists; do not activate it unnecessarily. Do not return to the building to gather personal belongings.

The Dean may also choose to refer the issue of readmission to a Behavior Evaluation Committee for its review and recommendation. In assessing the student’s fitness to resume academic life at the University, the Dean has the right to require an evaluation by a physician or psychiatrist of the University’s own choosing. If the decision is not to readmit, the Dean may specify the conditions that need to be met before readmission will be considered. If the decision is to readmit, the Dean will specify the stipulations, if any, that the student must meet in order to return and continue as a student (e.g., living off campus, continuing psychotherapy on a regular basis, etc.). Responsibility for payment of off-campus treatment will rest with the student.

Deviations From The Established Procedures:
Reasonable deviations from these procedures will not invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to a student may result.

Lipscomb University Crisis Management Guideline

Purpose
The basic emergency procedures outlined in this guide are to enhance the protection of lives and property through effective use of Lipscomb University and community resources. There are two general types of emergencies that may result in the implementation of this plan. These are: (1) large-scale disorder and (2) large-scale natural/man-made disaster.

Assumptions
The succession of events in an emergency is not predictable. Hence, published support and operational plans will serve only as a guide and checklist and may require field modification in order to meet the requirements of any emergency.

Definition of Crisis
A crisis is defined as anything or any person who causes serious threat to life, limb and/or property.

Declaration of Campus State of Emergency
The authority to declare a campus state of emergency rests with the University President or his/her designee. During the period of any campus emergency the Crisis Management Team (CMT) shall place into immediate effect the appropriate procedures necessary in order to meet the emergency, safeguard person and property, and maintain educational facilities. Only those faculty and staff members who have been assigned as Emergency Building Coordinators or members of the Crisis Management Team will have access to enter the immediate disaster site.

Emergency Command Post
When a major crisis occurs, or is imminent, it shall be the responsibility of the President, supported by the CMT, to set up and staff an appropriate Emergency Command Post.

Crisis Management Team Members
Additional staff may be added dependent upon the crisis.

University Notification System
In the event of an emergency (including weather and safety alerts), Lipscomb University will utilize a number of communication tools and strategies to communicate with the campus community. Depending upon the nature of the announcement, any or all of the following methods may be used:
• Text messaging and e-mail alert system (e2Campus); sign-up is voluntary but is strongly recommended.
• Campus-wide e-mail
• Voice notification to Emergency Building Coordinators
• Posting on University Web site and portals
• Posted printed notices in residence halls and in administrative/academic buildings

Information
Clear and concise information shall be communicated by appropriate means between the CMT Command Post, Emergency Building Coordinators, and other emergency officials.

Reporting Emergencies
A. In an emergency, call Campus Safety first, 7600 or 1826. In the unlikely event Campus Safety cannot be reached, call 911.
B. When calling, stay calm and carefully explain the problem and location to the Campus Safety officer or 911 dispatcher. Do not hang up until told to do so.

Evacuation Procedures

Building Evacuations:
A. All building evacuations will occur when an alarm sounds and/or upon notification by Campus Safety or Emergency Building Coordinator.
B. When the building evacuation alarm is activated during an emergency, leave by the nearest marked exit and alert others to do the same. Do not use the elevator in cases of fire and/or earthquake! Use stairway.
C. Once outside, proceed to a clear area that is at least 500 feet away from the affected building. Keep streets, fire lanes, hydrant areas and walkways clear for emergency vehicles and personnel. Know the area assembly points which are:
   — South — Soccer Field/Parking Lot
   — East — Playground/Parking Lot — Granny White side
North — Crestview Ave./Rosemont
West — Soccer Field/Parking Lot or Crestview Ave.
Elem. School — Specified safe areas

IMPORTANT: After any evacuation, proceed to your designated area assembly point and report to your Building Coordinator.
D. Do not return to an evacuated building unless told to do so by a member of the Crisis Management Team or an Emergency Building Coordinator.

Campus Evacuation
A. Evacuation of all or part of the campus grounds will be announced by Campus Safety or through one of the communication media.
B. All persons (students, faculty and staff) are to immediately vacate the site in question and relocate to another area as directed.

IMPORTANT: After any evacuation, remain calm and quickly report to your Emergency Building Coordinator at the designated assembly point.

Media Relations
Only the Vice President of Communications and Marketing or his/her designee will meet or talk with the media. The Crisis Management Team needs to be informed immediately of existing emergency situations and briefed with basic factual details necessary to accomplish their responsibilities.

Bomb Threat
A. If you observe a suspicious object or potential bomb on campus DO NOT handle the object! Clear the area and immediately call Campus Safety at ext. 7600. If Campus Safety cannot be reached, dial 911.
B. Any person receiving a phone call bomb threat should ask the caller:
1. When is the bomb going to explode?
2. Where is the bomb located?
3. What kind of bomb is it?
4. What does it look like?
5. Why did you place the bomb?
C. Keep talking to the caller as long as possible and record the following:
1. Time of call.
2. Age and sex of caller.
3. Speech pattern, accent, possible nationality.
4. Emotional state of caller.
5. Background noise.
D. Immediately notify Campus Safety, ext. 7600 to report the incident.
E. Campus Safety officers in conjunction with authorized personnel will conduct a detailed bomb search. Employees are requested to make a cursory inspection of their area for suspicious objects and to report the location to Campus Safety. Do not touch the object! Do not open drawers, cabinets, or turn lights on or off.
F. If an emergency exists, activate the building alarm.
Caution: The building alarm only sounds in the building where activated. You must report the incident by phone.

Violent or Criminal Behavior
A. Everyone is asked to assist in making the campus a safe place by being alert to suspicious situations and promptly reporting them.
1. If you are a victim or witness to a crime, you must promptly notify Campus Safety at ext. 7600 as soon as possible and report the incident, including the following:
   b. Location of incident.
   c. Description of person(s) involved.

Anti-Hazing Guidelines
Hazing is a broad term encompassing any action or activity, which is performed for admission/acceptance in an organization, and which: 1) does not contribute to the positive development of a person; 2) inflicts, intends, or may reasonably cause physical or mental harm or excessive anxieties; 3) demeans, degrades, disgraces, or otherwise adversely affects the dignity of a person by making that person an object of amusement or ridicule; 4) is illegal, contrary to the policies/purposes of the university, or compromising to the moral/ethical principles of a person. The definition will apply in any circumstance regardless of the location, intent, or consent of participants.
Some activities are easily categorized as “hazing,” while others may not be so easily classified. When the answer is unclear as to whether an activity may be hazing, it may be helpful (both for members, and for new initiates) to consider the following questions; affirmative answers should provide reasonable assurance as to appropriateness:
• Does the activity confirm or promote the values of Christian faith and practice?
• Can one argue reasonably and strongly that this activity/experience contributes to a productive or educational purpose? Does the activity have value in and of itself?
• If known outside the group, or witnessed by others, would this activity potentially add to the respect-esteem held for the organization by non-affiliates?
• If called to, could I reasonably and genuinely defend this activity in a court of law?
• Would I willingly and unashamedly allow my parents to witness this?
• Are prospective members participating together or equally in this?

New initiates/prospective members have a responsibility to themselves and to the organization(s) they join to preserve the productive nature and integrity of the organization(s) by refusing to participate in or condone any form of hazing. Already-induced members shoulder that burden even more heavily. Creating a productive and positive initiation process for a tight-knit group is not an easy process, and it is mired in potential for abuse when people (individually or collectively) are careless about their own purposes and motivations.
Generally, if you have to ask if an activity is hazing, it probably is. Do not do something simply because it has always been done, because older members had to do it, because everyone else is doing it, or for no other reason than you want to do it. Whatever your involvement in the process be bold enough to have accountability and to take the “high road!”
The following lists are orientation activities that the administration regards as generally having the tendency to be “constructive” or “non-constructive,” respectively. It has been provided as a guideline for formulating and judging the appropriateness of any activities used in the orientation process. These lists are not intended to be exhaustive, but are provided only as examples. If after thoughtful consideration there are any questions about whether an activity is hazing, contact one of the deans in the Office of Student Life at 966-5690.
Constructive Orientation Activities

- Initial goal-setting retreat in which the prospective class defines and commits to several significant/ambitious projects or goals they will accomplish before initiation.
- Holding mandatory study sessions of significant length (not limited to the study of orientation materials).
- Community service projects, especially those in which both members and prospects participate.
- Educating about the organization’s history/ideals, procedures, member responsibilities, etc., or having prospects learn basic information about actives, and other prospects, through visitation.
- Participation in team-building exercises such as a ropes course, paint-ball, team athletics, etc.
- Involving prospects, as a group, in campus-wide activities or programs.
- Scheduling meetings exclusively for prospects in which they can get to know each other, plan accomplishment of goals, or talk with the organization’s president or orientation chair (or both) about their experience in the orientation process.

Non-Constructive Orientation Activities

- Forcing or pressuring someone to consume any substance, including food or drink.
- Calisthenics or physical activity of any kind (e.g., push-ups, sit-ups, running), or any kind of uncommon/intimidating physical contact (e.g., paddling, pushing, etc.).
- Having prospects line up, or walk in a particular way.
- Requiring inordinately uncomfortable or ridiculous dress.
- Mandating personal servitude (e.g., doing laundry, cleaning houses, etc.).
- Marking, branding, or the application of not-easily-removable substances to the body.
- Antagonistic yelling, or verbal berating of pledges.
- Shackling/binding or blind-folding.
- Any road trips, treasure/scavenger hunts, “kidnappings,” etc. which are not approved by the Office of Student Life.
- Making such inordinate demands on time, so as to interfere with academic performance, class/chapel attendance, or adequate hours for sleep.
- Conducting or referring to any activity as Hell Week, Hell Night, or the like.

Nondiscriminatory Policy

Lipscomb University is a private Christian university open to any qualified student without regard to race, religion, sex, age, color, national or ethnic origin, or disability. RESIDENCE LIFE

Lipscomb University is committed to providing an on-campus living environment for degree seeking students that is safe, comfortable, and conducive to study and personal growth. In order to create a community experience that is as enjoyable as it is educational, residence hall students are expected to work together to understand other residents who may be from diverse cultural, or ethnic backgrounds. Married students, students over 25 years of age, or non degree seeking students are not allowed to live in the campus residence halls.

Full-time residence hall directors (RHDs) and assistant residence hall directors, report directly to the director of Residence Life, and manage Lipscomb’s six residential areas. These RHDs are empowered by the Dean of Student Life to administer and enforce residence hall and university policies, develop/incorporate in-service training strategies, and implement continuous quality improvement programs for enhancing on-campus living. Students encountering problems or concerns with any aspect of life within their specific residence hall are encouraged to seek out their residence hall director for direction, answers, and support. The residence hall directors may be reached at the following numbers:

- Hannah Meeks, RHD, Elm Hall 966-1003
- Laurie Sain, RHD, Fanning Hall 966-1181
- Mike Smith, RHD, High Rise Hall 966-1331
- Caroline Gallagher, RHD, Johnson Hall 966-1548
- Sam Parnell, RHD, Village Hall 966-1635
- Jonathan Williams, RHD, Sewell 966-7300

The university also employs approximately 44 Resident Assistants (RA) each year to provide support to the RHDs. Students are expected to comply with residence hall regulations and with directives from both residence hall directors and resident assistants as they are executing their assigned duties. Failure to do so may subject students to disciplinary action as determined by the deans of student life.

Babysitting

Babysitting is not permitted in residence halls.

Room Damages ........................................TBD
Common Assessment Charges ..........................TBD

Common Assessment

The residence halls operate under a policy of common assessment for “anonymous” damage in the halls and restrooms. The residents of each floor are responsible for the condition of the halls and rest rooms on their respective floor. All residents are responsible for the lobby, computer room, hallways, stairwells, elevators, vending machines, kitchens, etc. as well as the common interior and exterior doors. If extensive damage occurs, and the person or persons responsible cannot be determined, then all residents may be assessed the amount necessary to cover the cost of repairs. The common assessment charges will be reported to the Business Office for charges on the students’ accounts. There will be a minimum charge of $10 per student when a common assessment is made.

Curfew/Sign-out Regulations

Resident Assistants (RAs) will conduct room-check in the freshmen residence halls at curfew each evening. Curfew for freshmen is midnight (12:00 a.m.), Sunday through Thursday, and 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. Curfew hours for freshman may change for the spring semester. Sophomores, juniors and seniors may come and go as they wish; however, they are required to sign out at the front desk when leaving the residence hall after curfew. Each student should consult the current catalog’s criteria for “Class Standing” in determining his/her current classification.

All students returning to the residence hall after curfew must enter only through the main lobby doors, and are required to check-in at the front desk with student ID. Parents may be contacted if a student does not return on time and the residence hall director has not been notified of the reason for the delay.

Late permission is granted on an exceptional basis and should only be requested in special circumstances. Regular late permission that is work-related may be granted on a limited basis; students who desire this privilege must make arrangements with the residence hall director before entering into an agreement with an employer. Freshmen leaving the residence hall overnight must complete a checkout procedure providing an address and phone number where they can be reached in the event of an emergency, and specifying the day they plan to return.

All requests for late/off-campus permission are subject to the approval of the residence hall directors. Excessive late-hour activity, or abuse of policies regarding curfew/sign-out, may be brought to the attention of the deans of student life and are subject to disciplinary action. Generally, once a student has accumulated more than three (3) violations of residence hall policy in the same semester, the Office of Student Life will take informal disciplinary action. Additional violations will likely result in probation to the deans, or some other formal discipline.

Damages and Fines

The occupants of a room are responsible for any damage occurring in that room, including damage done by visitors. Damages will be reported to the Business Office for charges to student accounts. Monetary fines will be assessed when violations of specific residence hall procedures have been ignored or violated. Common assessment charges will be applied when damages occur in high traffic areas within residence halls (i.e., soda and vending machine areas, laundry rooms, lobbies, computer labs, etc.). Fines will be assessed (as listed below) if and when infractions or violations occur within the residence halls.

This listing is not exhaustive and will be expanded by the Office of Residence Life division or facilities department as needed to address residence hall concerns.

Covering smoke detectors:
- 1st offense, per person in room $ 25
- 2nd offense, per person in room $ 50
- 3rd offense Report to Dean’s Office

Decorations/Displays

Paper decoration should not cover more than 25% of the surface area of any wall. Displays/decorations shall not be located in exit corridors or block emergency egress from any room. They must also be kept away from exit signs, fire alarm devices (pull stations, smoke and heat detectors, etc.) fire extinguishers, and emergency and normal-use light fixtures. Entry, Search, and Seizure

Each student grants to the university the right to enter, inspect, and search the room of any student in university owned housing, or any student’s car, whether or not the student is a boarding student, with or without the student’s presence. All evidence found in such searches will be deposited with the Office of Student Life. Search authorization will normally be issued by the Senior Vice President for Student Life, one of the deans of student life, or the director of residence life. Except under an emergency situation (as determined by the university), a room search will be conducted by at least two representatives of the university. A student who refuses permission for a room search is subject to immediate dismissal.

No electrical cords (either extension or light cords) may be routed through doorways with doors or under throw rugs or loose carpeting.

Fire Alarms
In the event of a fire alarm all residents and guests must evacuate the building immediately and meet at the designated location for each residence hall. Failure to evacuate may place yourself and/or others at risk. Fire evacuation expectations apply for fire drills and actual emergencies.

Guests
Guests of residents and official guests of the university are able to stay overnight in the residence hall on weekend nights (maximum of three nights). Weeknight visitors are discouraged. All visitors must register with the residence hall director or RA prior to arrival and observe all university regulations. Guests are not allowed to stay overnight if the resident of the room is not present. Guests must show identification when entering or exiting after curfew.

Hallways
Activities such as boxing, wrestling, ball playing, golf-putting, scuffling, and other such disturbances are prohibited in the residence halls. The fire code requires that hallways must be uncluttered at all times. Therefore nothing may be placed in the hallways, including bicycles, furniture, etc., and the hallways must be kept free of all laundry and trash. Violation of this policy could result in confiscation of personal belongings and/or a fine.

- Residents of a room in which a loft or bunk bed has been used shall be responsible for any damage to property of Lipscomb University caused by the use, assembly or disassembly of the loft or bunk bed.

Maintenance Requests
In the event that you have a maintenance issue in your room/floor/building (light bulb, door lock, water leak, etc.) report the issue to your RHD by sending him/her an email.

Open Flame Policy
In keeping with the fire code, open flame candles and/or burning incense are prohibited in the residence halls at any time. Violation of this will result in $50 fine and confiscation of prohibited items. Candles used as a scent must have the wick cut to the wax so it may not be lit.

Pets of any kind are not permitted on campus, either in the residence halls or classrooms. Visitors are not permitted to bring pets into the residence hall.

Pranks
Inappropriate/destructive activities in any form (even if not intended as such) are prohibited.

Private Rooms
Private rooms are granted on an availability basis only. Private rooms will be confirmed upon the completion of final processing in registration and all residents who occupy a private room will be billed an additional per semester charge of $1020 per semester (charge is subject to change). Copies of the Private Room Policy are available for review in the Office of Residence Life.
Private rooms may be used for double occupancy if space is needed for another resident. In this case, the additional private room charge will be removed.

Propping Exterior Doors
No exterior residence hall doors are to be propped open, including side and basement doors. Violation of this policy will result in paying a fine.

Residence Hall Meetings
Attendance at all residence hall meetings is required. Failure to comply will result in a fine.

Residence Hall Security
In the interest of residence hall safety, students should use their key fob to enter the residence halls. After curfew, students will also need to show their student ID. Never grant a stranger access to the residence hall or allow others to use your key/fob. Individuals who activate door alarms due to improper entry/exit to and from residence halls will be assessed progressive fines as listed below:
- First Offense $50
- Second Offense $100
- Third Offense $200
- Fourth Offense $400
Repeat offenders of this policy may be subject to immediate suspension from the university.

Room Atmosphere

Pictures that do not portray Christian principles and provide mutual respect for cultural diversity on campus will not be displayed either within or outside the residence halls.

Room Changes
A student must have the advance written approval by the office of residence life before moving from one room to another. Students that move rooms after the first day of class will pay a $75 relocation fee. Students who move before approval by the housing coordinator will forfeit the new space, return to their former room, and/or receive a fine. A student desiring to move from one residence hall to another must complete the following procedure:
- Check with the office of residence life to determine if space is available.
- If space is available, request the residence hall director to sign a housing transfer card.
- Have the present residence hall director and RA sign the card.
- Return room key.
- Take card to the residence hall director of the new residence hall and pick up room key.
- Students who do not follow the above procedure may have to forfeit the new space and return to their former room.

The university reserves the right to move a student to another room and/or residence hall at any time. Students who do not have a roommate and are not paying for a private room may be assigned a roommate or a new room when space is needed.

Room Upkeep
Students living in university housing are required to keep their rooms clean and orderly. Residence hall directors and/or resident assistants will make periodic inspection of rooms. Discretion should be used in putting nails or tacks in walls, furniture, or doors. The furniture in each room is checked and recorded on a room inventory form when a student moves into his/her room. Missing and/or damaged furniture will be charged to the occupant of the room. No furniture is to be moved from the room to which it is assigned without permission from the residence hall director. Students that remove furniture from their room must complete the Furniture Removal contract provided by the RHD.

Room Reservation Procedures
On-campus residents must be classified as full-time students. A student taking fewer than nine hours in any semester must have permission from the housing coordinator in order to live in a residence hall.

Housing concerns are handled by the Housing Coordinator Andrea Breland, who oversees processing room reservations and assigning residence hall rooms. The Housing Office is located in the Office of Student Life in Bennett Campus Center. Before reserving a room a student must pay a $150 non-refundable Housing Processing Fee (HPF) each new academic year.

Room reservations are cancelled when a student officially withdraws or is dropped from the university. The student must reapply for admission and a room reservation deposit must accompany this application. If the application is approved, a room will be assigned. Room reservation details and dates will be posted on Lipscomb’s website.

Room Visitation
Students are not permitted to visit rooms of members of the opposite sex except during official open houses or upon approval from the RHD.

Salespersons and Solicitors
Salespersons, solicitors, and selling parties are not permitted in residence halls. Residence hall rooms are not to be used as headquarters for any private business.

Weather Emergency
During possible severe weather conditions residents are encouraged to take appropriate measures for their safety. In the event that a tornado warning is issued for Lipscomb’s area, residents and guests should immediately “take shelter” in the designated location for each residence hall. Failure to take shelter in the designated area may put yourself and/or others at risk. Once the tornado warning has expired, an RHD, RA, or Security Officer will notify residents and allow them to return to their rooms. “Take Shelter” expectations apply for drills and actual emergencies.

Windows
Entrance or exit through windows is prohibited except in life threatening situations such as fire, smoke, etc. The throwing of any object(s) from windows is not permitted. Windows should remain closed when heating or cooling is in use and opening may result in a fine.

University Liability
The university does not assume responsibility for personal property that is lost, damaged, or stolen. Students are advised to keep their doors locked. Students are cautioned to leave any valuable property at home or in a suitable storage place, because the university is not liable for the loss of any property. Students are requested to make use of checking accounts and not to keep large sums of money in their rooms. Students are encouraged to purchase insurance if they are not covered under their parents’ homeowners’ policies.

COMMUTER STUDENTS

Lipscomb University believes that students profit more from living on campus than from living in rented rooms or apartments off campus. The privilege of living off campus is extended to students who have senior status; thus, single freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are required to live on campus except those who are living at home with their parents in the Nashville area. Because living off campus is a privilege, the following conditions have been established. Approval to live off campus will be given if a student meets at least one of these stipulations:

1. 90 hours earned prior to the beginning of the stated term
2. 21 years of age
3. Enrolled in fewer than 9 hours
4. Living with parents in the Nashville area

Spiritedly, as a choice out of the family or othering, etc. do not grant students approval to live off campus prior to meeting the off-campus stipulations described above.

A HOLD will be placed on a student’s account who does not meet the qualifications to live off campus and fails to reserve a room during the designated time. Final approval to live off campus must be granted by Andrea Breland in the Housing Office before a student may enter into an agreement that would bind them financially, morally, or legally. Students not obtaining this permission in advance will be given the choice of moving back into a residence hall or withdrawing from the university. Students on disciplinary probation may be required to live on campus. In such instances, it will be the student’s responsibility to negotiate his or her release from any long-term lease. The university will not be responsible for losses sustained by students who are required to move back on campus. Failure to move back on campus, when required, may result in a student’s immediate suspension. Students approved for off-campus housing understand that all campus regulations apply to them as well. Permission to live off campus may be granted for only one term at a time. Providing false information while applying to live off-campus will result in disciplinary action. A student who has been approved to live off-campus must reapply to live off-campus in order to move to another location other than the address provided in their original off-campus application.

SPIRITUAL FORMATION

The Campus Ministry office exists to provide opportunities for the Lipscomb Community, both believers and non-believers, to encounter Christ and be transformed into His likeness. The university employs four full-time Campus Ministers and a variety of student interns and volunteers. These staff members are here to focus exclusively on creating the opportunities for spiritual growth in the lives of students.

Chapel

We have set aside two days on the university schedule for our community to come together for worship, learning, and spiritual growth.

Tuesdays (THE GATHERING)

Focus on community engagement with God—The Gathering is a time for the Lipscomb University family to come together in seeking God’s truth and direction through various formats and speakers. Every Tuesday at 10:55 a.m., students can choose between various chapel experiences around campus. Students will also have the opportunity to participate in small groups led by numerous campus leaders during the same time-slot.

Thursdays (Breakout Chapels)

Focus on spiritual growth and experience—we want to engage our students through different chapel settings for a more intentional and intimate time to encounter God. Each Thursday at 10:55 a.m., students can choose between various chapel experiences around campus. Students will also have the opportunity to participate in small groups led by numerous campus leaders during the same time-slot.

Additional Opportunities

Students will be able to acquire chapel credits through other on-campus opportunities as well. Several departments and campus leaders will organize spiritually forming events throughout the semester. Lipscomb Service Day, mission trips, and Wednesday Night Devo are a few examples of these additional opportunities offered by the University.

Attendance Policies for Chapel

Because we believe that attendance in Chapel contributes to the positive spiritual formation of every student at Lipscomb, students are responsible for accruing credits for their attendance. Every full-time student who has class on Tuesdays and Thursdays will be required to accrue 30 credits per semester. Each student is required to obtain at least 25 of their credits through a Tuesday/Thursday chapel or the additional on-campus opportunities. For every session that a student attends, he/she will be given ONE credit. Students are able to earn an additional 5 credits through volunteer hours, completed and submitted to the chapel office online. This form can be found on the Lipscomb website.

Missing Chapel Credits

No student will be given Chapel credit without their Lipscomb ID present in the session. If a student attends a chapel session and does not have their ID, that student is required to fill out a ‘Missing Chapel Credit’ card in the Campus Ministry office. If a student, for any other reason, is missing a Chapel credit, they are required to fill out the same card.

Checking Chapel Attendance

Students may check their chapel absences online by clicking the “Services” icon on the Lipscomb homepage at www.lipscomb.edu. Once the site is accessed, the student will be asked to provide... their username and password, and their credit record will be displayed. If a student feels there is an error in the attendance record they should bring it to the attention of the Chapel Coordinator. The Chapel office will not investigate any inquiry more than four weeks old.

Enrollment Guidelines for Chapel
Each full-time student (12 or more class hours) is required to enroll in chapel, which is course # CP-0110.
- Full-time students with MWF classes only are required to attain 15 credits (instead of 30 credits).
- Full-time students with T/R classes starting at 2:45pm or later, are also required to attain only 15 credits.
- Part-time students (11 hours or less) are not required to attend Chapel.

If a student drops from full-time to part-time status, the student is required to officially drop chapel from their schedule through the Registrar and must also inform the chapel office of their part-time status.

Chapel Exemption Policy
Students who need a lower credit requirement due to work, internship, or extenuating circumstances must submit a chapel exemption request with the Chapel office by the specified due date each semester. After each request is reviewed, depending on the student’s circumstances and schedule, the student’s specific requirement will be communicated. Approvals of these requests are not automatic so the student should wait for a response from the Chapel office before altering their schedule. A new request is required each semester for exemptions.

Chapel Probation
If a student does not earn the required credits specified, the student is placed on probation for the following semester. During the probation period, if a student again does not accrue the required number of credits, the student will be suspended for the following semester. If a student is on any two types of probation (chapel, academic, behavior, etc.) in the same semester, the student is subject to suspension.

Penalties of Chapel Probation:
- The student will lose institutional financial aid. (A students may petition the Financial Aid Office for possible renewal of scholarships after the probation period is over and requirements are completed.)
- The student must go on inactive status as a campus club member during the period of probation. A club officer on probation must relinquish his/her post. Students on probation are not allowed to pledge campus clubs.
- Students may also be restricted from participation in other campus activities (for example: Singarama, study abroad, intramurals and varsity sports).
- To remove chapel probation, the student must attend chapel the next semester and accrue the full requirement of chapel credits.
- If any senior in their final semester of class work fails to earn the required credit amount, the student’s diploma will be withheld. The student must work with the chapel coordinator through service opportunities to have the diploma released.

If a student shows blatant disregard or disrespect for the chapel system and it persists after reasonable warning, a student will be subject to immediate suspension with or without being first placed on probation. These cases will be determined through the judgment of the Senior Vice President for Student Development.

Student Activities Board (SAB)

Each week various events and programs are provided for students to promote an active community and to provide opportunities for social interactions. The Student Activities Board (SAB) will send weekly reminders of the opportunities available for students to get involved. The SAB is composed of student leaders who plan, design, and implement various events/programs on campus. Contact Louis Nelms, Director of Student Activities at (615) 966-6084.
SINGARAMA

Singarama is an excellent way to get involved on campus and meet tons of new people. This event takes place in the spring semester, and all students are encouraged to participate. The show is separated into three main groups that are headed by the social clubs. The groups are given a theme and challenged with creating a 25-minute show that involves singing, acting, choreography, staging, costume design and much more. The three shows compete for first place in a variety of categories as well as first place for the overall Singarama Sweepstakes. Singarama will be held in Spring of 2016.

Running of the Bisons

Nashville’s biggest all-time college rivalry happens during the men’s basketball season when the Bisons go head to head with the Belmont Bruins. Lipscomb and Belmont both share what is known as The Boulevard (Belmont Boulevard) which runs right by both of the campuses. Even though Belmont’s name is on the street sign, every year both schools compete for the bragging rights of “owning” this street. Each year Allen Arena sells out to an energetic crowd clothed in purple and gold ready for an intense game of basketball. The week leading up to the game is called Bison Week and is filled with activities such as pep rallies and tailgate cookouts for our students to express and take pride in their school spirit. If you have a tent, you’ll love joining the hundreds of Lipscomb students who gather to camp out the night before the game in front of the arena. Also, students gather for The Running of The Bison, a lively and boisterous “parade” of Bison pride running through the neighborhood and streets of the Green Hills community.

Lighting of the Green

Lighting of the Green is an annual Christmas/Holiday celebration hosted by Lipscomb for the surrounding community. Residents of the local area are invited to come and bring their families to our campus for an evening of holiday festivities, including a live performance by Christian-pop star Amy Grant and the lighting of the Christmas tree on our quad. Lipscomb students are always encouraged to come out and enjoy the evening with the rest of the community.

ALPHA PHI CHI Anteaters Ball

The Alpha Phi Chi men’s service club puts on an annual production known as Anteater’s Ball to raise money for various charities throughout the world. The club’s members showcase their talent throughout the show through musical numbers and choreographed dances. This show is always impressive, lots of fun, and all the money goes to a wonderful cause.

TAU PHI Cowboy Show

Each year the men of Tau Phi put on a live country production called The Cowboy Show and is one of the longest running on-campus concerts at Lipscomb. This year’s show will mark the 36th annual performance. Accompanied by a professional country band from Nashville, Tau Phi’s members and ladies from all over campus (who audition to be in the show), perform some of the greatest country songs of yesterday and today. Cowboy Show is a great on-campus event and lots of fun for everyone who comes out.

Service Clubs

The Lipscomb community offers many opportunities for service on campus. Sigma Pi Beta, an organization dedicated to Christian service including ministry to youth groups, has an energetic chapter on the Lipscomb campus. Also, Circle K Service Club is a growing and vibrant service group associated with the Kiwanis that enables students interested in serving others to build friendships as they serve the people of the Nashville area. Pi Kappa Sigma is a women’s service club on campus and Alpha Phi Chi is a men’s service club.

Intramurals

The university has a strong intramural program. It consists of two divisions — one for social club teams and another for independently organized teams. Along with intramurals, a wide variety of resources and athletic facilities are offered in the Student Activity Center. Kyle Dickerson, the Director of Campus Recreation, may be reached at (615) 966-1648. Please visit campusrecreation.lipscomb.edu for a complete list of intramural sports, outdoor recreation opportunities, health and fitness activities throughout campus and more information.

Student Activities Center (SAC)

The student activities center contains two full length basketball courts, four racquetball courts, an indoor running track, weight rooms, Spinning Studio, aerobics lounge, Au Bon Pain, and locker rooms. Students who wish to use the SAC must present their Lipscomb ID card at the control desk. The SAC hours are Mon-Fri 5:30 a.m. -10:00 p.m. and Sat 9:00 a.m. -5:00 p.m. and Sunday 2-5pm/8-10pm. Detailed information about the SAC services are available in the SAC or by visiting campusrecreation.lipscomb.edu. Wellness services are offered to students for a small fee at the SAC. You can join group fitness, personal training and nutrition services. Just some of the group fitness classes offered are Spinning, sculpt, Bosu, kickboxing and Zumba.

Students can enjoy the outdoors through our Outdoor Adventure program. Experiences such as white water rafting, Climbing Nashville, snow skiing, camping, hiking, and a robust slate of bike trips (from urban trips through downtown Nashville to weeklong treks throughout the Southeast) are just a few exciting adventures.
